Family Life and Joy

Finding love is a joyful thing. It brings with it the knowledge of being valued by another and of valuing the one we love; it also brings the joy of sharing experiences, values, humour and of hope and building a future for your relationship. As love grows and matures it brings new joys as a family life develops, sometimes with the gift of children and the joy of parenthood. These joys bring with them demands and challenges, but with these comes the strength of facing them together and the often unexpected fruits of caring for others – from the excitement of first words, laughter at family meals, celebration of successes, through to the next generation finding their own love and joys. Parenthood can be hard work, whether together or alone, but the selfless giving involved can transform our lives as parents and children, and echo out to all who encounter it – bearing witness to Christ's presence in the world (AL 88). This happens too in our families without children where the love present looks outward with generosity and self-giving. This is what we mean by the 'domestic church', a place where mutual love, sacrifice and joy spill out to enrich the lives of others.

Amoris Laetitia – The Joy of Love

is a document that celebrates married and family love and their central role in the life of the Church and the wider world.

When we give up something for Lent, we're ultimately going to experience that moment when we reach for the thing we gave up and realize that we may need to replace it with something else.

So the best Lenten advice we can share with you is to prepare for that — to know that you're going to be tempted, and to have a plan for what you're going to do in that moment.

So when you consider what to give up this Lent, also plan for what you'll replace it with...

Because every time we say “no” to something, we’re saying “yes” to something else — even if we don’t realize it.

Here are things you can say “yes” to while you say “no” to what you’re giving up:

- + If you’re giving up social media: Replace it with reading the daily Mass readings, or a daily devotional, or replace it with listening to a podcast (like ours or the Bible in a Year podcast). Text a friend about what you’re reading. Put a picture of a short prayer as the background of your phone and pray it every time you reach for it.
- + If you’re giving up podcasts, tv shows, or movies: Replace it with watching or listening to Catholic talks that help you grow in your faith life, like our online Pray More Novenas' Lenten Retreat, or Formed videos, or daily homilies you can find online. Take the time you would have spent watching a show and pray the Rosary or the Divine Mercy Chaplet, or visit the Lord in Eucharistic Adoration.
- + If you’re giving up complaining: Replace it with a journal of gratitude and praise for the Lord. Write down the little blessings you see around you throughout your day. Plan to share an encouragement or a compliment with someone each day. Say prayers of gratitude every morning before getting out of bed and every night as you fall asleep.
- + If you’re giving up shopping for yourself: You can donate what you no longer need or volunteer your time during Lent. You could visit a friend you haven’t seen in a while, and ask them if they need something helpful before you drop by.
- + If you’re giving up any sort of food or drinks: You can replace it with a prayer for those who are hungry and in need. For people who are lonely or forgotten, or for the souls in Purgatory. You can volunteer to make a meal for someone you know or someone in your parish.

Fasting is a way to make space for the Lord to work in our lives, so these sacrifices -- big or small -- give the Lord the opportunity to speak and it gives us the chance to respond to Him and be in relationship with Him.

Whatever you give up, we hope these suggestions will be helpful for you to have a fruitful Lent.

Revised 29th August 2020

By order of the Bishop, the following statement is to be published on the weekends in February and October each year

Marriage is a lifelong vocation of a man and a woman to a community of life and love open to children, and, between the baptized, it is a Sacrament. Aware of the many pressures today which can endanger family life, the Church is constantly concerned to make sure that those of you planning to marry are prepared as well as possible. We would like to remind those who wish to marry of the following:

1. It is important that a couple go to see their priest in good time before their wedding. Normally, at least six months' notice should be given.
2. Marriage preparation is carried out by the priest, often assisted by a group from the parish. Courses arranged on a Deanery basis are recommended.
3. Catholics are reminded of their obligation to preserve their faith and to do all they can within the unity of their partnership to have all their children baptized and brought up in the faith and practice of the Catholic Church.
4. Non-Catholic partners will be informed of this promise, but they are not asked to make this or any similar promise.
5. Dispensation for a marriage between a Catholic and a non-Catholic to take place in a non-Catholic church can only be granted for a serious reason. Couples who wish to marry in a non-Catholic church should discuss the matter with their priest in good time before their wedding day to see whether a dispensation could be granted.

All couples marrying these days need the support of the local Church. In this way they will be strengthened in their preparation for marriage, in celebrating their marriage, and in living out their covenant with one another.

We wish to thank all those married people who show such constancy and fidelity to their vocation of marriage. May their example inspire those planning to marry in the Church.

Right Reverend Patrick McKinney
Bishop of Nottingham

NOVENA FOR MARRIAGE

Day 1: Thanksgiving for the vocation of marriage.

*He provides food for those who fear him;
he remembers his covenant forever.*

Psalm 111:5

Let us pray for the vocation of marriage, for the covenant of love that it offers to those who are still discerning and those who are already married. In this Sacrament, may God's covenant love be mirrored in every marriage and may his grace continue to feed and enrich all couples.

(Mention your request here...)

We pray the prayer for Marriage Week:

Lord, we pray in thanksgiving for the vocation to marriage and for each couple that you join together to make a family.

We ask that every marriage brings each couple closer to you and in holiness.

We pray for those who are struggling in their marriage at present, that they can make it through this tough time and find hope and consolation in You.

We pray that this Jubilee year can be a year of hope for marriages, with your gentle guiding hand through each action, decision, discussion and event.

We make this prayer through Christ, your Son, our Lord.

Amen.

Day 2: Praying for couples preparing for marriage.

Then shall your light break forth like the dawn, and your healing shall spring up speedily...Isaiah 58:8a

Let us pray for couples preparing for marriage and the ongoing journey this Sacrament calls them to. May God's light and healing touch accompany them in their faith, in the commitments they are about to make, and in their future life to come.

Isaiah 58:7a*
